Real estate developers and those in need of financing expertise seek us out. Businesses from early stage start-ups to major financial institutions choose us to help them take bold action and achieve strategic goals. Our work begins with exceptional legal know-how—but it doesn't end there. We roll up our sleeves and immerse ourselves in your business, learning what makes you tick and what sets you apart. Understanding both your daily operations and big-picture goals helps us develop solutions as unique and creative as you are. We have the bench strength to 'right-size' the legal staffing on your matter to cover your basic business needs from Main Street to the specialized services required in the C-Suite.

Our lawyers have local knowledge of the Toronto market. Our top clients are headquartered in the Greater Toronto Area. Couple that with experience learned from 70+ years of real estate and property development, and you know that we can help you make the right decision when your business needs to make that difficult judgement call.
