Catherine DiMarco has more than 20 years of construction contract and claims experience. Certified by the Law Society of Ontario as a specialist in construction law, with a deep understanding of the industry, Catherine provides practical guidance on the pursuit or defence of claims, managing risks during contract negotiations, and assisting with project delivery plans.

When disputes arise, she represents different sectors of the construction industry on claims, or on the defence of claims. These sectors include owners, general contractors, subcontractors and suppliers, as well as design and engineering professionals. Clients appreciate her ability to distill and prioritize key issues and salient facts that arise in complex construction disputes. Her practical and creative approach to dispute resolution is guided by both business drivers and legal remedies.
